

DMV & RITBA FAQ Sheet

Violation/Invoice FAQ's

1. Why did I receive an invoice for a license plate, that has the same plate number as mine, but is not me?
 - Rhode Island has over 40 different license plate types (i.e. Passenger, Commercial, Combination).
 - Due to the number of different plate types sometimes the wrong plate type is identified.
2. I received a violation from another state, but I have an RITBA E-ZPass account? What should I do?
 - First, please contact the RITBA Customer Service Center at 1-877-743-9727 to review your account to determine why the violation occurred.
 - Or login to your account to check the following: (www.ezpassritba.com)
 - All your account information is current
 - All your vehicles are listed on the account
 - Your payment method is up to date
 - You have a positive balance on the account
 - The transponder you are using is listed on your account and has an ACTIVE status
 - Then, contact the agency you have received the violation if you have further questions, or follow the payment instructions for payment of the violation.

Toll Dispute FAQ's

3. What should I do if I receive a toll invoice in the mail that is not mine?
 - First review the image on the invoice to ensure this is not your vehicle or license plate.
 - Identify the agency from which the invoice is issued. Then contact that agency and follow their dispute process.
 - Contact the RIDMV for assistance if it is not your vehicle pictured in the toll violation notice. Please scan and email your violation notice to DMV.Titles@dmv.ri.gov.
4. What should I do if I received a charge on my RITBA E-ZPass account for a license plate I no longer own?
 - Have you removed the plate from your vehicle list on your E-ZPass account?
 - Please note if you have cancelled your license plate and have not removed the vehicle from your account, a credit may not be possible. It is the account holder's responsibility to make sure all vehicles are up to date and current on the account. Please refer to section 2J of the Terms and Conditions.
